CXone Dashboard
Fully Customizable Data Visualization for Real-Time and Historical Insights

NICE CXone Dashboard is a comprehensive suite-centric solution providing seamless aggregation of both real-time and historical cross-domain data. Experience a holistic view of omnichannel call center metrics, with insights for everyone in the contact center.

CXone Dashboard combines the power of complete data visualization, customization, and unparalleled user-friendliness. With a process as simple as dragging and dropping widgets, you can choose from a wide spectrum of metrics and attributes to display.

The days of relying on external BI tools are over—creating uniquely tailored and flexible dashboards has never been this straightforward.

CONQUER COMPLEXITY

In today's environment, with contact centers frequently dependent on a patchwork of diverse technologies to handle CX, business leaders face the challenge of untangling a jumble of data to derive actionable business insights. And both supervisors and employees need a clear understanding of what they're doing right and how they can improve.

CXone Dashboard conquers this ever-growing complexity with seamless, customizable data visualization that requires no special expertise and no additional BI tools. Comprehensive data from multiple domains is collected, organized, analyzed, and made easily accessible to everyone across the contact center, how and when they need it.

CXone Dashboard combines transparency and pivotal business insights for enhancing and improving every customer experience.

Get the Whole Picture

Awareness is the key to providing the best customer experience and ensuring CX issues don't escalate out of control. With CXone dashboards providing a holistic view of your contact center, you can help the right people take the right action—before it's too late.

- Track key metrics across voice and digital channels for an omnichannel view of your operations.
- Collect cross-domain data from CXone ACD, QM, DFO, Interaction Analytics, and Guide.
- Get real-time information and analysis for rapid response to CX needs or issues.
- Analyze historical data for early insight into performance trends.
- Address complex business challenges through interactive drill-downs and root-cause analysis.

Make the Data Work for You

Business intelligence does not have to mean a massive investment of time and resources devoted to using and maintaining the needed technology. CXone Dashboard provides unparalleled flexibility and full customization, so you can visualize the data exactly how you want it.

- Create custom data visualizations for any contact center persona, including: supervisors, agents, executives and quality managers.
- Choose from a wide variety of metrics and attributes to drag-and-drop into a variety of widgets.
- Use any of the of 20+ out-of-the-box visualization widgets designed for the contact center.
- Customize widgets to show any metric in the system and its value for selected teams, agents, skills or campaigns.
- Include cross-domain metrics, drawn from various applications and channels, in a single widget.
- Filter the data within the widgets to meet your exact needs.
